Genuine BRIO® Wooden Railway
Wooden Railway Sets

Starter Sets. The best way to start your child in the Brio® Wooden Railway System is with a simple Starter Set. And with Brio, you have four different choices! The Starter Sets are appropriate for ages three and up. Because young children like repetition in play, a train and track are enough. Switches and an easy-to-assemble bridge provide a higher level of complexity. On pages 14-20 you’ll find blueprints for expanding every Starter Wooden Railway Set.

Starter Sets
Your child might be ready for the challenges of the Figure 8 Set. It offers the opportunity to build with a switch and a simple bridge.

Starter Figure 8 Set
- 33025
- 3/4" x 20 3/4" or 12 x 45 cm
- See pages 19-20 for expansion blueprints.

Intermediate Set
Your train engineer will enjoy challenging play experiences with this Intermediate Set. The more complex bridge and supports in the Suspension Bridge Set encourage your child to explore balance and symmetry. On page 21 you'll find a blueprint for expanding this Intermediate Wooden Railway Set.

Intermediate Suspension Bridge Set
- 33030
- 42" x 18" or 115 x 41 cm
- See page 21 for expansion blueprints.
Wooden Railway Sets

Advanced Sets
As your child grows, you’ll want to add challenges that further expand the world of Wooden Railway play. These two Advanced Sets include magnets, cranks, bridges and crossings which enhance fine motor and problem-solving skills.

Advanced Land & Sea Set

Expansion Blueprints

The blueprints on the following pages show ways to expand Brio's Starter and Intermediate Wooden Railway Sets. Tracks are identified with the abbreviated names outlined below. These layouts are only suggestions—individually, your child will create endless variations. That's because there's no one way to build with Brio's Wooden Railway System!

Genuine Brio's system is modular so your child will learn simple math skills while having fun. Understanding track equivalencies will help you choose new pieces for your collection. The chart below shows just a sampling of equivalencies—your child will discover many more. Extra tip: Three straight tracks ($D$) equal the length of the Lifting Bridge.
Circle Set Expansions

Add this track.
33334 Short Straight Track (4 x A1)
33386 Assorted Track (4 x E, 2 x R, A1, A2, B2, C2)

Turntables are a great way to expand your child's Wooden Railway system. Your child will exercise his or her fine motor skills when rotating the center track to change direction.

- 33360 Turntable
- 33361 Mechanical Turntable
- 33460 Round Turntable
Starter Tunnels & Bridges

Tunnels satisfy a young child’s curiosity when added to railway play because he or she is just learning about object permanence. And, when your child is ready, the easy-to-assemble viaduct is a great first bridge.

- 33351 Viaduct
- 33457 Twin Track Tunnel
- 33358 Mountain Tunnel
- 33458 4-Way Tunnel
- 33362 Tunnel
- 33459 Tall Tunnel
- New!

Build Your Own Bridges

More experienced engineers may make their own bridges with build-it kits that include everything your child needs—sturdy blocks and beams, colorful connectors, windows and doors! And with a variety of supports and ascending track, your child can build bridges with track already in your collection.

- 33702 Suspension Bridge Kit
- 33701 Bridge & Tunnel Kit
- 34340 Brio® MEC Bridge
- 33332 Ascending Track
- 33354 Graded Supports
- 33355 Supports
- 33557 Bridge Supports
Bigger Bridges

Bridges that lift, swing, and draw will challenge capable engineers and will add realism to their layouts. For lots of play value, the Reversible Double Track Bridge is a good choice because it's two bridges in one. Just turn it upside down!

- 33357 Lifting Bridge
- 33364 Draw Bridge
- 33375 Swing Bridge
- 33396 Rope Bridge
- 33397 Reversible Double Track Bridge
- 33476 Double Track Bridge
- 33479 Tunnel 'n Double Bridge
Great Little Gifts

These genuine BRIO treasures are just the ticket when a special surprise is in order. Each collection has something fun and the package tells you the skills your child is reinforcing during play.
